Text of the Third Office Action

Application number: 2004100076168

The applicant filed an observation aiming at the Second Office Action on September 26, 2007. After reviewing the above documents, the Examiner examines the application further and is of the following opinions.

1. Claim 1 does not possess creativeness stipulated by Item 3, Article 22 of the Patent Law. In the second office action, the Examiner pointed out that claim 1 possesses no creativeness with respect to Prior Arts 1, 2 and common sense of the arts. And in the observation to the second office action, the applicant did not amend the claims and only pointed out that features about "an evacuating unit" in claim 1 are not disclosed by Prior Arts, and they do not belong to common sense of the arts. On this basis, the applicant concluded that the invention can not be predicted based on Prior Arts 1-3, so claim 1 as well as all claims of the application possess creativeness. And it is common sense that the photosensitive unit must be separated from the developing unit before detaching the photosensitive unit in order to protect the photosensitive unit. And there are many devices in which the members contacting with the photosensitive unit must be separated from the photosensitive unit firstly and then the photosensitive unit can be detached when detaching a processing cartridge with photosensitive unit. For example, in the HP laser printer LaserJet 9000, the processing cartridge is lift firstly through a grip so that the photosensitive unit is separated from the members contacted with it, and then the processing cartridge is detached when the processing cartridge with a photosensitive unit is detached. And in the HP printer LaserJet 1300, the movement separating the photosensitive unit from the members contacted with it is associated with open of the machine casing. And in the image forming apparatus disclosed by Prior Art 4 ( JP2001 - 255804A ) , the photosensitive drum is also be separated from the developing roller firstly when members are detached. All these facts indicate clearly that the members contacting with the photoreceptor must be removed when detaching the photoreceptor. Therefore, the Examiner is still of the opinion that persons skilled in the arts can easily think out the technical proposal of the invention by applying a evacuating unit in the image forming apparatus disclosed by Prior Arts 1 and 2, wherein the evacuating unit separates the members contacting the photosensitive unit 22 from the photosensitive unit 22, and then the photosensitive unit 22 is detached. In other words, the technical proposal of the invention is obvious to persons skilled in the art. Therefore, claim 1 has no prominent substantive features and presents no notable progress.

2. Claims 2-33 do not possess creativeness stipulated by Item 3, Article 22 of the Patent Law. The additional technical features of dependent claims 2-33 of claim 1 were not revised in response to the second office action. As mentioned in the first and second office actions, the additional technical features are disclosed by Prior Arts 1-3 respectively or belong to common sense of the art, so in the case where the quoted claim 1 possesses no creativeness, claims 2-33 possess no creativeness, too.

And the applicant shall also note that the evacuating unit for evacuating the developing unit described in the description is disclosed by Prior Art 5 ( CN1369750A ). Prior Art 5 discloses the following contents (see line 14-24, page 7 of the description and figure 7, 8 of Prior Art 5): referring to Figs. 7 and 8, a description will be provided as to the separation means (corresponding to the evacuating unit of the application). In a rear side of the main assembly 100 of the apparatus with respect to the inserting direction of the cartridge 7, there is provided a separation means (force applying member 8) (corresponding to the linking rod 41 of the application) for separating the developing roller 40 from the photosensitive drum 1 against the urging force of the developing unit 4. The force applying member 8 has separation plates 80a-80d for raising the force receiving portions 46a-46d provided in the developing units 4a-4d for the yellow, magenta, cyan and black developers. By releasing the raising action of the separation plates 80a-80d, the developing roller 40 is brought into contact to the photosensitive drum 1 by the elastic force of the spring 54. In this way, all the features of the evacuating unit are disclosed by Prior Art 5. Even if the applicant restricts the evacuating unit in claim 1 further according to the description, claim 1 is still unacceptable.

Base on said reasons, claims 1-33 of the application possess no creativeness. Furthermore, there are no substantial contents described in the description that can be granted. Therefore, even though the applicant recombines the claims and/or restricts them according to the description, the present application is impossible to be granted. If the applicant fails to give persuadable reasons explaining why the application possesses novelty and inventiveness before the authorized deadline, the present application shall be rejected
